Takayama City is a basin-shaped region that, as the largest city area-wise in all of Japan, is roughly the same size as Tokyo itself! High above sea level, the city sees plenty of snowfall, though the mountainous areas on the outskirts of the basin experience much more of it than does the downtown center. The historical part of Takayama was initially built up by the Kanamori clan which ruled over the region beginning in 1586 and which poured its resources into promoting culture and industry in the castle town that was established. When Japan entered the Edo period (1603 ~ 1868), Takayama came under the direct rule of the Tokugawa shogunate military regime, which protected commerce in the region, allowing it to flourish like never before. Central Takayama today retains much of its elegant architecture and flavor from that age of prosperity, causing many to call it “Little Kyoto.” Outside the city center, however, lush nature dominates the landscapes. It should be noted that Takayama is often referred to as “Hida Takayama,” a remnant of the age in which the entire northern part of modern-day Gifu Prefecture was known as Hida Province (not to be confused with Hida City).

The Old Quarter of Takayama

Known by the name “Sanmachi,” the old quarter of Takayama consists of three streets in the center of town that preserve much of the look and feel of the castle town as it was hundreds of years ago. Located within a 10 minutes’ walk of Takayama Station, the old quarter is easily accessible and has become one of the must-see destinations in Gifu Prefecture. Old merchants’ houses and sake breweries line both sides of the streets, lending the area a very traditionally “Japanese” atmosphere and architectural style.

From the sugidama balls of cedar that hang from the breweries to signify the arrival of a new sake brew to the koshi latticed doors and windows that grace the housefronts, Takayama’s old quarter has much of which to boast. Indeed, Sanmachi is designated a “Nationally Recognized Important Historical Building Preservation Area” and is the heart of Takayama tourism. The striking black luster of these buildings, which one immediately notices, tells a tale of just how prosperous Takayama was: the wealthy merchants who lived in the area used the best quality wood in the construction of their houses, even though use of such timber was forbidden. Thus, they painted their homes black with soot so that this act would go unnoticed! Among the many shops you can enjoy in Sanmachi are cafes, gift shops, and restaurants of many varieties. In addition, snacking on a local delicacy such as Hida beef sushi while strolling the town is certain to satisfy your stomach and your soul and is the recommended way to explore the town! The wisteria flowers that adorn the eaves of the old houses in the springtime give Takayama’s old quarter an even more refined air, if indeed that is possible, so the spring is a particularly recommended time to visit.

Takayama Festival

A twice-a-year spectacle that is held during spring and autumn, the Takayama Festival is also known as the San-no Festival (spring) - the annual festival of Hie Shrine - and the Hachiman Festival (autumn) - the annual festival of Sakurayama Hachiman Shrine. It is counted as one of Japan’s Three Most Beautiful Festivals, thanks in part to the splendor of the festival floats, or yatai, that are displayed and pulled around the town. These floats - 23 in all - are fantastic works of craftsmanship that speak to just how distinguished the wood and metal workers were in Takayama. Each district of the town has its own yatai, and the craftsmen held nothing back when constructing them, aiming to make the most glorious float of them all! You can really appreciate the exquisite craftsmanship when seeing the floats up close. Other highlights of the Takayama Festival are the karakuri marionette performances that are featured on some of the floats and the night festival, which gives you a chance to marvel at the yatai in an entirely different light; adorned with hundreds of glowing lanterns, each float takes on a different aura during this night festival, which is not to be missed! You will see hundreds of people in Edo period attire, so making your way to the Takayama Festival is just like stepping back in time!

Spring Festival: April 14 ~ 15

Autumn Festival: October 9 ~ 10

Sarubobo

One of the most famous and most popular souvenirs of Gifu Prefecture is the sarubobo doll; it originated here in Hida Takayama and you will find it almost everywhere you go in the area. The name sarubobo was created by combining the Japanese word for monkey: “saru,” with the word from the local Hida dialect for baby: “bobo” (the red face of the doll also reminded people of that of a Japanese macaque). Thus, the name sarubobo came to be. Since times of old, the color red was thought to have the power to ward off evil spirits and to stave off epidemic diseases, so sarubobo dolls have historically been used as protective charms. The people of Takayama would make the dolls and give them to loved ones in order to protect their children or to wish for a good marriage match or a safe childbirth. Of course, sarubobo are exceedingly cute and unique, making them popular items to bring back home regardless of the deeper meaning that they possess!

TAKAYAMA
1 Takayama Morning Market 朝市

Back in the Edo period, rice and flower markets were held in Takayama, laying the foundation for the morning markets that would eventually emerge and become a fixture of the Takayama experience. It was after the establishment of these first markets that farmers began to bring vegetables and other fruits of their labor to be sold, and from then on the scale of the markets only continued to grow. At present, there are two separate morning markets that open every day in Takayama, one along the Miyagawa River and one in the plaza in front of the Takayama Jinya. At each of these locations, around 40 – 50 stalls are set-up, though that number may decrease significantly during the winter or on rainy days. Among the products you can buy here are freshly picked fruits and vegetables, pickled goods and Japanese sweets, flowers, folkcraft goods, and more! Coming to the morning market is also a nice way to interact with the locals and learn a bit about them and their culture.

2 Takayama Jinya 国史跡 高山陣屋

As a domain under the direct control of the Tokugawa shogunate during the Edo period, Takayama was home to a magistrate, or governor, sent from the capital of Edo to administer the rule of government in Hida Province. The Takayama Jinya, a historical government house, is where this magistrate lived and worked. Along with conducting legal trials and sentencing criminals, one of the main duties of the magistrate and his subordinates was collecting taxes, which in that time came in the form of barrels of rice. Thus we have the rice storehouse located right next to the main building, which is one of the largest such storehouses in all of Japan. Because of the economic influence of the Hida area, with its abundant forest and natural metal resources, the Takayama Jinya was among the most important magistrate offices in the country. And of the 60 or so offices that were of that same top rank during the Edo period, the Takayama Jinya is the only one still standing, making it truly one-of-a-kind! You can tell a lot about Japanese society as it used to be by exploring the Jinya. For example, the tatami straw mats are indicative of the hierarchical structure that existed, as the mats in the rooms where lowly subordinates worked have no decorative fringes, the mats in the rooms where mid-level workers carried out their duties have black fringes, and the mats in the rooms where high ranking officials - such as the magistrate himself - worked have colorful fringes featuring the Tokugawa family crest. 3 Hida Kokubun-ji Temple 飛騨國分寺

The oldest temple in Takayama City, Hida Kokubun-ji Temple is worth a visit...event if you don’t actually enter the temple! The Main Hall of the temple, over 1,200 years old, is designated national Important Cultural Property, and adjacent to that is a three-story pagoda that is a prefectural Important Cultural Property. But perhaps most stunning is the massive ginkgo tree set within the temple grounds opposite the pagoda, said to be 1,200 years old itself. A designated Natural Monument of Japan, this tree shows a different side of itself every season, especially during the fall when it turns a brilliant yellow. 1-83 Sowa-machi, Takayama City 0577-32-1395 9 am – 4 pm ¥500 (Middle and elementary school students: ¥250) 0577-32-0072

4 Kusakabe Folk Museum 日下部民藝館

Representative of the typical construction of merchants’ houses in the Edo period, the Kusakabe Folk Museum has been designated a national Important Cultural Property. Its architectural beauty is such that American oil magnate John D. Rockefeller reportedly desperately wanted to buy the house and transport it back to the United States! 1-52 Oshin-machi, Takayama City 0577-32-0072 9 am – 4:30 pm (December – February: until 4 pm) ¥500 (Middle and elementary school students: ¥300) 0577-32-0072

Takayama’s Sake

There is a saying in Japan that “where there is cold, there is good sake,” which gets to the very heart of what is required in the sake production process. In addition to cold weather, clean water and high-quality rice are also prerequisites, and Hida Takayama boasts all of these in plenty. Since the mid-Edo period, sake production has flourished in this town, and while many more breweries used to exist in the past, there are still a number that continue to this day. Each brewery produces its own unique sake, which visitors can sample and/or purchase when they stop in for a peek. Japanese sake is made during the winter months, and throughout this period, Takayama’s breweries open their doors to the public and show visitors where all the magic happens. From mid-January to late February, they take turns offering these “Sake Brewery Tours,” with one brewery every week holding them. Getting to see where sake is made is a rare opportunity, so be sure not to pass up this chance if you come to Takayama in the winter!

Takayama Ramen

Said to have originated in street stalls long ago, Takayama ramen is a unique kind of ramen cherished by the locals. Also known by the name “chuka soba,” which means “Chinese buckwheat noodles,” Takayama ramen is actually not made out of buckwheat and is therefore NOT actually soba! A couple of the defining characteristics of this delicious regional dish are as follows.

Light soup with soy sauce base: Unique among ramen is the process by which Takayama ramen’s soup is made; the soy sauce is boiled in the pot together with the broth made from chicken and pork bones. With other kinds of ramen, the broth is prepared separately and poured on top of the noodles and soy sauce just prior to serving. Because of this special cooking method, Takayama ramen has an extremely unique quality; its taste changes slightly depending on how long the soup stock has been boiling!

Curly noodles: Compared with most other types of ramen, chuka soba’s noodles have more volume to them because they are wavy as opposed to straight. This means that the noodles trap the soup and its taste more effectively, adding more flavor to every bite! And finally, the curly form gives Takayama ramen a somewhat different texture than other types when slurped!
Hida Folk Village 飛騨民俗村 飛騨の里

A beautiful open-air museum with lush verdant scenery, the Hida Folk Village is home to over 30 structures that represent the various styles of houses found in the Hida region throughout its history, including gassho-zukuri thatched roof houses typical of Shirakawa-go, many of these houses are hundreds of years old and were moved to and reassembled in the Folk Village for preservation purposes. Indeed, the aim of the Hida Village is to give visitors a glimpse into the old lifestyle of Hida locals, and what better way to accomplish this than to transport them to a setting that recreates the original environment! In addition to the houses themselves, many old articles of daily use are exhibited here. Furthermore, you can watch demonstrations of various crafts, such as pottery and woodworking, at locations throughout the village. With no reservation required, you can also try your hand at making some of these crafts yourself (the exact menu of hands-on activities available depends on the day)! Finally, the Hida Folk Village has illumination events during the peak season of autumn and during the winter, making the landscape even more magical!

Hida Beef

Hida beef is a designation awarded to Japanese Black cattle of the highest quality that is bred in the Hida region of Gifu Prefecture and that meets the strictest of standards. Recognized as Japan’s best beef multiple times, the name "Hida beef" is synonymous with succulent taste and exquisite, marbled texture. The soft, pink meat will melt in your mouth and can be enjoyed in many forms, from steak to shabu-shabu style, which involves dipping thin slices into hot water for a few seconds to cook them. When eating Hida beef, you can almost taste the time and labor that went into caring for the cattle, resulting in this meat that is among the most delicious foods in Gifu.

MAIN FEATURE

The Five Onsen Towns of Okuhida

Hirayu Hot Spring:
Said to have been discovered by the feudal lord Takeda Shingen in the Warring States period (mid-15th century to the beginning of the 17th), Hirayu is now a central hub for tourism in and between Okuhida, Kamikochi (in Nagano Prefecture), and Mt. Norikura. Visitors can enjoy various types of hot spring water here.

Shinhirayu Hot Spring:
Located in central Okuhida, Shinhirayu boasts an elegant atmosphere and elaborately designed open-air onsen baths that are favorites of visitors to this region. The hot spring water has proved effective at relieving fatigue and wiping away one’s stress!

Fukuji Hot Spring:
A secluded area that captures the charm of the Hida region even more than the other Hot Spring Villages. In Fukuji, you can also find bicarbonate onsen baths that will make your skin as smooth as silk!

Tochio Hot Spring:
Most of the accommodations in this village are guest houses, lending Tochio a very homely air. The deeply personal hospitality that is found at these inns and the velvety quality of the hot spring water make Tochio an extremely appealing destination.

Shinhotaka Hot Spring:
Of the villages in Okuhida, Shinhotaka is located deepest in the mountains, and for this reason the area is rich in open-air hot spring baths from where you can take in the beautiful mountain scenery. The clear, colorless, odorless hot spring water is about as easy on the skin as onsen come!

SPOTLIGHT

Okuhida’s Winter Festivities

With its cold and snowy winters, the Okuhida Hot Spring Villages are the stage for a number of festivals and events that highlight the charms of this winter wonderland. From frozen waterfalls to snow huts and sculptures, there are many unique sights across the five villages that you can only enjoy in a region such as this. In addition, many of these sights are illuminated at night, bringing them vividly to life amongst the darkness of winter!

Major Events:
Aodaru Illumination (Late December ~ early March), Taruma Kanekori Illumination (Late December ~ end of February), Tochio Hot Spring Winter Illumination (Late December ~ end of February), Hirayu Waterfall Ice Festival (February 15 ~ 25), Nakao Kamakura Festival (February 1 ~ 14)

Day Trip to Onsen

Throughout Okuhida, there is a variety of foot-baths that you can soak in free of charge and hot spring facilities that you can take advantage of at very reasonable prices. Even if you do not stay the night in Okuhida, it is incredibly easy to make your way here, hop into an onsen bath or two, and then continue on with your journey in a different region. True hot spring lovers will enjoy trying out a bunch of baths in Okuhida, from the “Alps Kaido Hirayu” spa located right at the Hirayu Bus Terminal to the “Shinhotaka no Yu” open-air bath from which you can survey the magnificent Japan Alps. Each hot spring village, of course, has its own distinct spring water, and on top of this, every hot spring bath is one-of-a-kind, making this kind of onsen pilgrimage an experience that remains ever fresh!

The magnificence of the Northern Alps takes on a different look and feel every season of the year, and it is this grand natural environment that encircles the Okuhida area of Takayama City. Okuhida is composed of five distinct hot spring villages: Hirayu, Shinhirayu, Fukuji, Tochio, and Shinhotaka. These villages all have their own unique charms in addition to their own particular types of onsen water. A hot spring area with much history, Okuhida is blessed with an abundance of spring water bubbling forth from the earth, and because of this there are more open-air hot spring baths here than anywhere else in Japan! It is the perfect place to experience traditional Japanese hospitality and the old way of life at a simple, tranquil inn tucked away in the valleys between the mountains.
1 Hirayu Great Waterfall 平湯大滝

Selected as one of Japan’s 100 best waterfalls, the Hirayu Great Waterfall is a 64-meter tall, 6-meter wide beauty of nature. In February, it is illuminated after freezing over, creating a giant pillar of ice that is the center of one of the region's main winter festivals, the Hirayu Waterfall Ice Festival!

2 Shinhotaka Ropeway 新穂高ロープウェイ

The only two-tiered gondola in all of Japan, the Shinhotaka Ropeway takes visitors to a height of 2,156 meters in 25 minutes, broken down into two trips. Unlike some other destinations such as the Alpine Route, this ropeway is in-service year-round, offering spectacular views of each season’s mountain scenery. In particular, the winter view - both from the windows of the gondolas and from the observation point at the top of the mountain - will make your jaw drop! As you might expect from its high altitude, the area around the ropeway sees meters of snowfall in the dead of winter, and you can enjoy a stroll through a “snow corridor” at the top of the mountain where walls of white surround you on both sides. Don’t miss this beautiful location that has won a 2-star rating from the Michelin Green Guide Japan!”

The Furukawa Festival and Its Soul-Stirring Okoshi-daiko

The town of Hida Furukawa may trump all other destinations in Gifu when it comes to the number of truly unique festivals and events that are held here. Chief among these is the Furukawa Festival, which takes place every year on April 19th and 20th. With over 400 years of history, this Shinto ritual is considered one of Japan’s Three Great “Naked Festivals,” though not to worry, the men are in fact half-clad in loincloths! It is also a famous “fighting festival,” a class of festivals in Japan that involves much colliding and competing for dominance. The festival also includes more traditional elements, such as the parade of festival floats and the procession of the mikoshi portable shrine that houses the deity being worshipped.

It is said that the Furukawa Festival represents both “stillness” and “movement,” with the former embodied by the elaborate yatai floats and the calm mikoshi procession. This part of the festival has much in common with the famed Takayama Festival, including karakuri marionette performances. But one thing that you do not find in Takayama is the adorable children’s kabuki that is performed on one of the nine yatai. The festival’s “still” side can be enjoyed during both days, but the star of the show is undoubtedly the “movement” component that takes center stage on the night of the 19th.

From 9 pm to 2 am, the spectacle of the okoshi-daiko, the “rousing” or “wakening drum,” takes place. It is thought that long ago, the striking of this large drum served as a literal wake-up call for the townspeople, signaling the start of the festival. Both in that sense and in the more abstract sense of “rousing” the spirits of all in attendance, the naming of this stirring drum performance is spot-on! Soon after the beating of the drum begins, hundreds of half-clad men divided into many groups begin to rush towards the okoshi-daiko as close to the okoshi-daiko as possible, resulting in the vigorous jostling, or “fighting,” that is seen. Occupying that closest position is thought to bring good luck, and the men of Furukawa spend all night attempting to gain and hold that position as the okoshi-daiko parades through the town. A nationally designated Important Intangible Folk Cultural Property, the Furukawa Festival is the most important period of the year, and the chance to be one of the men beating the okoshi-daiko is a once-in-a-lifetime honor of which Furukawa men dream.

SPECIALTY PRODUCT

1. Japanese Warosoku Candles

At the Mishima Candle Shop in Furukawa, traditional Japanese warosoku candles have been made since the Edo period using techniques introduced from China. Handmade warosoku are rare in Japan and make fantastic gifts. Japanese candles differ from western candles in several ways: they last longer, are made such that the wax forms concentric rings around the core, and produce flames that flicker even in the absence of wind because of how the wicks are made. At Mishima, they produce uniquely patterned candles in addition to the more traditional plain red and white ones!

2. Miso Senbei

You can get your hands on some delicious baked senbei rice crackers made using miso at the Inhiro Seikaho shop in Furukawa. They make their own miso here, fermenting it in one of the white-walled storehouses for three years, resulting in a sweet and salty taste that will keep you wanting more! They are best when fresh out of the oven, and you can get some piping hot crackers if you make your way to the shop on a Wednesday.

Town of White-Walled Storehouses Along the Seto River

Through Hida Furukawa flows the Seto River canal, which features prominently in the center of town. Home to around 800 brilliantly colored Japanese carp, the canal gives the streets of Furukawa a very tranquil, low-key town, but this all changes on April 19th and 20th with the arrival of the Furukawa Festival, a staple of Hida’s spring season that is perhaps the most electric event in all of Gifu!
SATOYAMA EXPERIENCE

Santeran Mairi "Three Temples Pilgrimage"

The Santeran Mairi, held on January 15th, is another unique festival with a history of over 300 years. It is well-known nationwide as a festival where young people’s prayers for finding love and for luck in marriage come true! Originally, though, it had none of this connotation, and was simply a pilgrimage to each of the three Buddhist temples in Furukawa. There are many charms to the festival, from the giant Japanese candles and snow candles that line the snowy streets to the 1,000 candles that are placed along the Sato River canal by worshippers. These last candles are either white - signifying a prayer for fortune in love - or red - representing thanks for love found during the year past!

Kitsunebi "Fox Fire" Festival

A re-enactment of a local nursery tale, the Kitsunebi Festival is yet another of Hida Furukawa’s fascinating and alluring annual events. Kitsunebi is a phenomenon of ghostly lights seen at night, literally meaning “fox fire” in English, and is comparable to the will-o’-the-wisp of European folklore. In local Hida folklore, the kitsunebi is said to be the torch light from a wedding procession of foxes. The festival re-creates the procession and following marriage ceremony, turning the town of Hida Furukawa into the mystical stage of a fairy tale on the 4th Saturday of September. Those who catch a glimpse of the foxes’ marriage ceremony are said to be blessed with a bountiful harvest, booming business, and safety for their families, so make your way to Furukawa, get some fox-themed face paint applied, and take in the spectacle!
